MANU AMPIM is a noted historian and primary (first-hand) researcher specializing in Africana Studies. He earned a Masters of Arts degree in History & African American Studies from Morgan State University in 1989. He is the Director of Advancing The Research in Oakland, CA.

Teaching Career:

He has taught in the Department of History at Morgan State University (Baltimore, MD), and at San Francisco State University in the Department of Ethnic Studies. Also, Ampim has studied at Oxford University in England, and collaborated on a NASA-sponsored research project, which examined the ancient climate and migration patterns in Africa. Since 2006, Prof. Ampim has taught History and Africana Studies at Contra Costa College (San Pablo, CA). He also teaches a pioneering 7-Step Primary Research Methodology Course at Advancing The Research.

Pioneering Field Research:

For the past 36 years, Prof. Ampim has taken educational tours to North Africa and Central America. In addition, in 1989-1990 he conducted an extensive 13-country research tour to all of the major museums, institutes and libraries throughout America, Europe and Canada, which house ancient Egyptian, Nubian, and Kushite artifacts. Since the 1990s, he has completed various field research projects in Egypt, Nubia, Ethiopia, Sudan, and South Sudan to continue his primary research at dozens of indigenous communities and field sites to study ancient African social organization and spiritual culture, observe cultural retentions, document modern forgeries, and to record the vanishing evidence of classical African civilizations in the Nile Valley. His latest mission since 2011 has been to organize the Save Nubia Project (SNP) to help preserve the archaeological sites of ancient Kush and Nubia in the Sudan, which are threatened by the ongoing construction of a series of dams. The SNP collective has helped lead this effort in saving the remains of the classical Kushite and Nubian civilizations in Sudan, and other areas of northeast Africa. Ampim's body of work for more than three decades has earned him the recognition as one of the leading scholars on ancient African culture and contributions to the world.

The Temple has a double dedication to the crocodile-headed Sobek and the sparrow-headed Haroeris. In the middle of the temple area, a sanctuary was built for each of these divinities. Double entrances lead through the pylons to the court, vestibule, pillared hall and the three antechambers to the sanctuaries of the gods. Continue your journey towards Aswan arriving in the afternoon. Drive alongside the Hapi to your hotel. Evening lecture.

JUN 17: THE HIGH DAM / PILAK (PHILAE) TEMPLE & UNFINISHED TEKHEN (OBELISK) OF HATSHEPSUT Morning visit to the High Dam. Some 4 1/2 miles south of the earlier Dam, the High Dam rises up on a colossal scale. The Pyramid of Khufu could be lost 17 times over in this modern structure. The inland lake created by the Dam is more than 340 miles long, penetrating some 155 miles into the Sudan, and it submerged 39 Nubian villages and countless archaeological sites. Proceed to Pilak (Philae). When the Aswan Dam was opened from July to November, the resulting drop in water level was such that the Temple of Isis on the Island of Philae rose up out of the waters. During the remaining months of the year, only pylons and the upper sections of the building could be seen. In the 1960s, all monuments on the Island of Philae were transferred to the small island of Agilkia nearby and rebuilt there. Visit the Temple, the oldest parts of which date from the 4th century BCE. Ptolemies and Romans added to the Temple over the years until the 2nd century CE. Return to the hotel via the Pink Granite Quarry where the ancient Africans obtained their fine pinkish granite. See the unfinished tekhen (obelisk) of Queen Hatshepsut, had it been completed, it would have been the largest ever hewn. It was abandoned when a flaw was discovered in the stone. Return to your hotel. Evening lecture.

JUN 18: ROCK TOMBS OF THE NOBLES / YEBU (ELEPHANTINE ISLAND)/NUBIAN DAY This morning visit the Rock Tombs of the Nobles, which date from the Pyramid Age (Old Kingdom). Board a felucca and sail to Yebu (Elephantine Island) for a visit to the Nubian villages, the school, and for lunch. Return to your hotel. Evening lecture.

JUN 19: ABU SIMBEL (TEMPLES OF RAMSES II & NEFERTARI) Morning flight from Aswan to Abu Simbel which is situated on the West bank of the Hapi, 180 miles south of Aswan and some 27 miles north of Wadi Halfa. There lies the Great Temple, hewn in the rock, with the four colossal seated statues of King Ramses II in front of the entrance. It was dedicated to Amen-Ra, the Re-Horkhti, and Ramses II. The figures are 65 1/2 feet high and wear the double crown. Nearby, to the north, is a second temple, also built by Ramses II and dedicated to his wife Nefertari. The temples, which were threatened by the waters on the completion of the Aswan High Dam, have been preserved by international action organized by UNESCO. The most important parts of the temples (statues, inscribed slabs, etc) have been rebuilt on a plateau above the former site. Return to Aswan.
